Dorothy Dalton, the radiantly beautiful star of New York's latest sensation "Aphrodite," will be seen tonight at the Globe theatre in "The Vampire" a Thomas H. Ince production. The story deals with an unusual love triangle in which the "Queen of Bohemia" wins another woman's husband in an odd manner and is deprived of him by an equally strange chance. It's packed to overflowing with big tense, dramatic scenes and thrills without number. The wrecking of the great limited express is highly sensational. "The Vampire" is intensely interesting; too good to miss.

The big thriller at the Globe U today might well be called "Action Unlimited," it being "Riders of the Dawn," adapted from Zane Grey's powerful novel "The Desert of Wheat." "Riders of the Dawn" is a picture that touches every motion in the heart's register. Love runs through it like a golden thread; we feel the hot flush that mounts to men's cheeks when they are in the presence of defiant wrongdoers; we yield now to pity and now to joy. The time passes rapidly as we watch the

Chas. Taggart Gives Excellent Program

The Brotherhood of the Grace Methodist church held its public autumn meeting and corn supper on Friday evening. Immediately after supper the Brotherhood members and friends met in the church parlors for a business session.

It was voted that at the next meeting, Oct. 12 that members pay 25 cents and outsiders, with membership privileges, pay 50 cents to hear Rev. W. Quinton Genge. The subject is "The Habitant."

During the hour John G. P. Hicks spoke interestingly of personal experiences in some of the Indian uprisings in 1859.

The final feature of the evening was the entertainment by Charles W. Taggart. The numbers of special merit were "The Old Century Fiddler in New York," Imitations of Bird Voices upon the violin and several feats of ventriloquism.

The prizes for selling tickets were awarded to 1st, Laura Shields, who sold 52; 2nd, Clara Martin; 3rd, Mildred Gile.

Whose Annual Footwear Bill Is the Lowest?

That of the prudent far-sighted man and woman who figure not first cost, but cost by the year.

Shoes that grow old honorably and yet look young at the very end of a long period of service are Walk-overs.

The explanation is found in the exceeding care given the smaller and less obvious details of their manufacture and fit.

Walk-overs are real shoe economy—full value for what you pay.

"GOOD LOOKING and SENSIBLE" Describes the New Fall Suits

You will have to see these Suits to appreciate how much more becoming and desirable they are. They have an air of stateliness. The Coats are slightly longer and get away from the severe high chested effects.

The sleeves are full. The general effect is "looser." There are two and three button models, both single and double-breasted.
